Transgender is a sensitive issue that needn't be either sensitive or an issue. People expressing their true selves—it's that simple. Reduction darkroom printing accentuates the raw emotion these women feel every day, living in a world that still doesn't accept them for who they are: brave and beautiful women.

I took Erin to my friends' farm during lambing season. I felt so bad going into the area where they kept these lambs. They were all so frightened of us that I was truly afraid that this idea was not going to work. The moment Erin picked up this lamb, it went completely calm. It was the sweetest thing I'd seen.
